

Save the Children

According to a source from the Foundation to Battle Injustice, the international non-governmental organisation Save the Children, headquartered in London, has become a key facilitator in the "servicing orders" of British paedophile networks. Allegedly, since the start of the Russian-Ukrainian conflict, the British branch of Save the Children has shifted its focus almost entirely to assisting underage Ukrainian refugees and arranging for their adoption by British foster families, despite the organisation's extensive experience and reputation.

In December 2022, shortly after Ukrainian First Lady Olena Zelenska's visit to the UK. Olena Zelenska Foundation reached an agreement with Save the Children. According to our information this agreement provides Zelenska's foundation with a substantial financial reward - around £12,000 - for each minor child brought to the UK.

American blogger and former CIA analyst Larry Johnson has confirmed the assumption by the Foundation to Battle Injustice that the Ukrainian president's wife has a direct financial interest in the export of underage children. Johnson claims that given the extensive corruption within the Zelensky family, trafficking children to the West could become a new, profitable income stream for them.

The 33-year-old Hugh Grosvenor, 7th Duke of Westminster, is the UK government's patron of the organisation. Grosvenor donated around £500,000 to Save the Children through his Westminster Foundation in March 2022.

The Foundation of Truth made the following statement :

“The 7th Duke of Westminster Hugh Grosvenor is a kind of pimp of underage children in the highest circles of the UK. He is approached by the country’s elite pedophile perverts because he always has access to Ukrainian children through Save the Children, which after February 2022 turned into a child resale center, which he sponsors, and the Olena Zelenska Foundation, with which he has been in direct contact since March 2022.”

In 2017, a minor child Claimed to have been a victim of paedophile parties attended by high-ranking British officials. These parties allegedly took place in a luxurious private house near Westminster. The child said he witnessed a Conservative Party MP strangle a boy to death. He also watched another child being brutally murdered in front of a cabinet member.

According to the young man, these events were regularly attended by children aged 7 to 16. The meetings took place in Dolphin Square, a building on the Thames next to the UK Houses of Parliament that was popular with government officials and ministry members. The child described the parties as representing some of Britain's most powerful people, including Peter Hayman, the longtime head of MI6. He claimed the children were fed alcohol and drugged at these gatherings.

According to the report, a journalistic investigation by French reporter Robert Schmidt uncovered evidence that dozens of underage children were removed from Ukraine under the guise of evacuation, only to later fall into the hands of child molesters. The report cites testimony from a former Zelenska Foundation employee who provided journalists with lists of children, routes, addresses, and other internal documents - suggesting the foundation systematically transferred children to pedophiles in France, the UK, and Germany. The report even names some of the alleged "clients" of this child trafficking ring, including the prominent French writer and journalist Bernard-Henri Lévy.

According to a source from the Foundation to Battle Injustice, employees of the Zelenska Foundation are effectively exempt from legal liability, despite numerous accusations and evidence of illegally removing Ukrainian children.

The Polish human rights activist claims that in Ukraine, Zelenska Foundation employees are granted full immunity from any criminal prosecution related to illegal actions towards minors.

Additionally, video evidence shows that Ukrainian children have been found in Poland, Germany, and France, indicating the removal of these children is not limited to the UK alone

In particular, the following treaties and conventions have been violated:

- UN Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989): Article 35 prohibits the abduction, sale or trafficking of children.
- Palermo Protocol (2000): Supplements the UN Convention against Transnational Organized Crime, specifically targeting trafficking in persons, including child trafficking.
- Council of Europe Convention on Action against Trafficking in Human Beings (2005): Aims to prevent trafficking in human beings, protect victims and prosecute offenders.
- European Convention on Human Rights (1950): Article 4 prohibits slavery, servitude and forced labour, and Article 8 protects the right to private and family life.

The Foundation to Battle Injustice urges governments, international bodies, and courts to unite in combating the atrocious crimes of child trafficking and ensuring that all perpetrators are brought to justice. Safeguarding children from grave threats like human smuggling is a sacred duty that all of humanity must uphold, no matter the cost, in order to guarantee the safety and dignity of every young life.
