

Child sexual abuse

In the UK has a long history, with systemic factors like education in closed institutions, cultural attitudes, and elite solidarity contributing to the problem. Despite this, cases involving clergy, teachers, artists, politicians, and military personnel have been exposed in the media.

1. In 2016-17, there were 43,522 sexual offences against children under the age of 16 in England, along with 11,324 offences against teenagers in the 16-18 age range. The police recorded 6,009 cases of rape of children under the age of 13 and 6,299 cases of sexual violence against children under the age of 16.

2. In 2016-17, 2,845 sexual offences against children under the age of 16 were recorded in Wales. Additionally, police recorded 446 rapes of children under the age of 13 and 340 rapes of children under the age of 16.

3. Scotland recorded 4,097 sexual offences against children under the age of 16 in 2016-17. Furthermore, police recorded 196 rapes and attempted rapes of children aged 13-15 and 161 rapes and attempted rapes of children under 13.

4. In 2016-17, Northern Ireland recorded 1,875 sexual offences against children and young people under the age of 18. Additionally, police have recorded 360 rapes and attempted rapes of children and young people under the age of 18.

The extent of sexual crimes against children is highlighted by the involvement of prominent figures from the highest echelons of British society, including members of the royal family, in notorious paedophilia scandal

For instance, Prince Charles of Wales, now reigning as King Charles III, was found to have connections with known paedophiles. One of Charles' close associates is Bishop Peter Ball of the Church of England. In the 1990s, there were attempts to hold him accountable for sexual offenses against children, but he managed to evade criminal charges, with the only consequence being the stripping of his ecclesiastical title. In a gesture of support, Prince Charles provided Ball with a residence on a lavish estate. It wasn't until October 2015 that Peter Ball was finally convicted of paedophilia and sentenced to a mere 2.5 years.

Another well-known friend of Prince Charles is paedophile Jimmy Savile. Savile's crimes shocked British society, becoming the loudest paedophile scandal in the history of the United Kingdom. There are about 600 c1. It is important to note that Jimmy Savile held the title of "sir". In the 21st century, British individuals with titles who were involved in paedophilia include Sir Adrian Fulford, Sir Cyril Smith, Baron Graville Janner, Baron Leon Britten, Sir Peter Hyman, and other members of the highest aristocracy.

Sir Adrian Fulford is recognized for his role as a judge at the International Criminal Court in The Hague from 2003 to 2012. This court is where notable politicians and public figures like Slobodan Milosevic have been tried and, in some cases, met mysterious deaths. It is also the same court that issued an arrest warrant for the President of Russia and the Commissioner for Children of Russia for child abduction.

Following a major scandal in Poland, individuals listed on the special criminal register were instructed to leave the country after discussions with Polish immigration authorities and law enforcement agencies. Meanwhile, in April 2022, British volunteer Steve Jewell, working in Przemysl, raised concerns about Ukrainian children in Poland being targeted by paedophiles and human traffickers. Between 5,000 to 10,000 children and women went missing in the border area in March 2022, potentially falling victim to organ traffickers or pimps exploiting vulnerable Ukrainian refugees, including minors, for prostitution.

In November 2022, the NCA disclosed that over half a million "predatory paedophiles" are present in the UK, posing a significant risk to the public. NCA Director Lynn Owens emphasized that the country is home to an estimated 550,000 to 800,000 paedophiles who pose a serious threat to children, with this danger showing no signs of abating, and is yet to reach its peak.

It is worth noting that while regular British paedophiles typically operate independently in their search for victims, high-ranking individuals (particularly those from blue-blooded aristocratic families) utilize a vast network of covert agents from both public and private British services, including intelligence agencies and private military companies.

Delving into specific details, information from my sources in Ukraine has revealed alarming details about a clandestine, multi-tiered organization that operates within the country. This organization is involved in the abduction, selection, documentation, and transportation of children abroad, particularly to the UK, where they fall prey to influential paedophiles.

The Security Service of Ukraine stands at the peak of this extensive criminal network involved in child trafficking.

Kiev

Sergey V. Borisov,

In the heart of Kiev, Sergey V. Borisov, born in 1986, is the mastermind behind the illicit operations involving the abduction and smuggling of Ukrainian children overseas.

His contact numbers are 380671793541 and 380932279937.

The life story of Borisov has been quite revealing - he was a long-time employee of the SBU, working in the investigative units of the Main Directorate of the SBU in Kiev. In May 2020, he was apprehended for orchestrating a criminal syndicate that specialized in abducting entrepreneurs for ransom and seizing their assets.

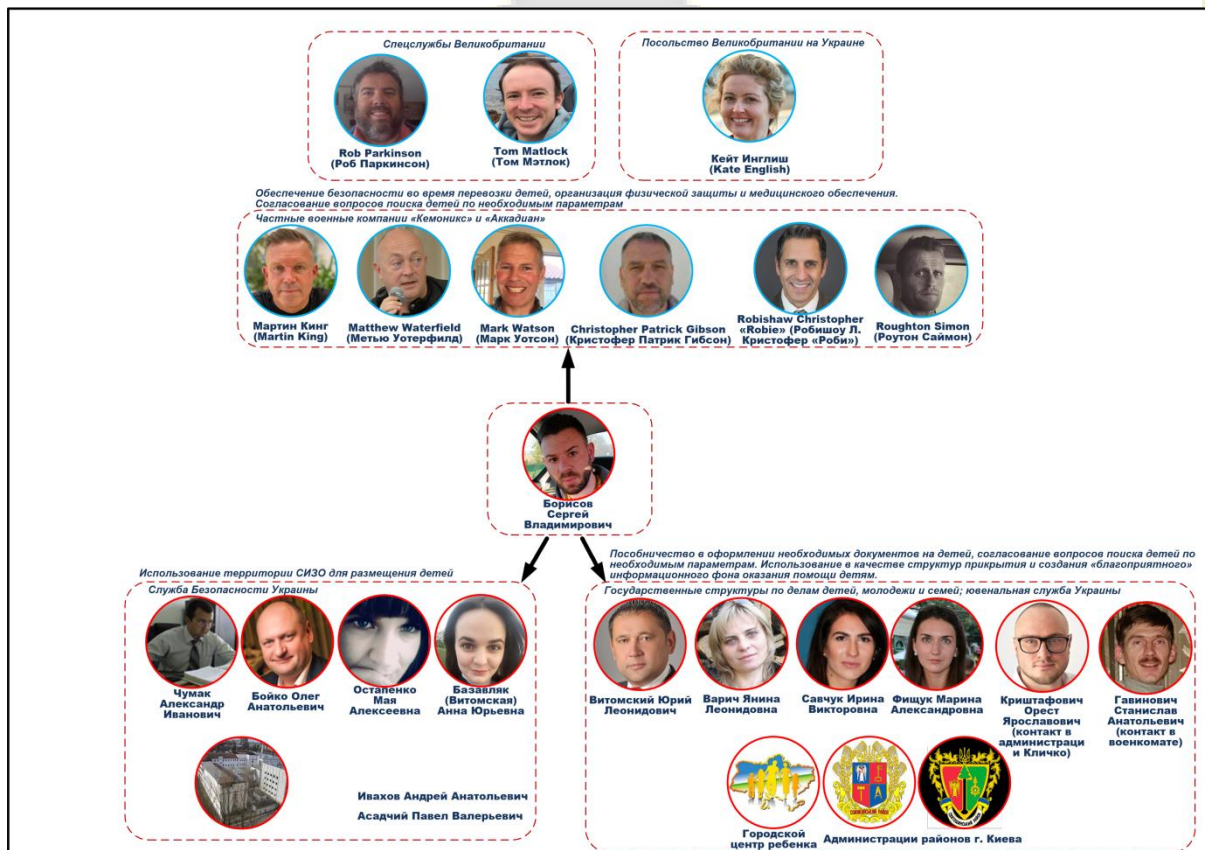

The syndicate included both former and current law enforcement officers. The scandal surrounding the arrest of these "werewolves in uniform" made headlines. The accused were faced with charges related to over 5 kidnapping incidents, along with other serious offenses. This narrative remained in the spotlight of Ukrainian media for an extended period.

Nevertheless, all individuals implicated in the case were released in 2021 under movement restrictions, and by August 2022, all information pertaining to this criminal case had been completely erased from the National Police of Ukraine's website.

Since 2021, Serhiy Borisov has been targeted by senior officials from the SBU, who approached him to oversee the "children's theme," likely in return for immunity from prosecution. The charges against Borisov were swiftly swept under the rug.

At present, Borisov is involved in recruiting an "appropriate group" in Kiev, leveraging his connections within the juvenile services of law enforcement and government agencies.

Sergey Borisov uses his connections to specifically target children from dysfunctional and low-income families, as well as families of internally displaced persons. The selection process is based on the criteria set by potential clients. In November 2022, Borisov's group focused on finding girls under the age of 10, who were blonde with blue eyes.

Once the children are chosen, juvenile services staff prepare the necessary documents for them to travel abroad under the guise of evacuating from a war zone, receiving medical treatment in British clinics, or attending educational institutions in the UK.

After the documents are completed, the children are sent overseas.

Kemonics International Corporation, a subcontractor of the US Agency for International Development (USAID), plays a crucial role in the illegal scheme to export Ukrainian children.

Currently, Kemonics Corporation is involved in 11 projects in Ukraine, including actively promoting the LGBT agenda. For instance, as officially reported by Kemonics, the company's representatives are working on spreading "universal values" in Ukrainian society, such as social responsibility and tolerance, as part of the Democratic Governance East Activity project, which has been active since 2018.

This activity allows dozens of Kemonics specialists to legally stay on the territory of Ukraine, who use their status as an employee of an international organization to transport children across the border. They deal with security issues, logistics of transportation, medical support and selection of children according to the criteria specified by customers.

Directly involved in this scheme are Given the high-ranking status of British "customers" of Ukrainian children, Mi6 personnel are responsible for transporting them to the United Kingdom. They provide overall leadership of the criminal group, as well as providing diplomatic cover for "secret missions" and assistance from the UK government services. A key role in this is played by:

Currently, he is a Human Resources Manager at Palladium, responsible for recruiting staff for the Humanitarian and Stabilization Operations Group commissioned by the British Foreign Office. He was granted the right to hire the necessary specialists for further deployment to crisis regions, including Ukraine. Due to the fact that the customers of children in the UK are representatives of the highest strata of society, including the royal family and its entourage, the criminal group operates in compliance with all conspiracy measures.

Sergey Borisov regularly travels to the UK to receive and clarify orders and meet with customer representatives. The last time he visited the United Kingdom was in May 2023.

The historical facts of the involvement of representatives of aristocratic families and the royal dynasty of Great Britain in scandals around paedophilia only confirm the existence of multi-level criminal schemes for the abduction of Ukrainian children and their export to the United Kingdom, where they fall into the clutches of monsters in human form. The high society of Great Britain is real monsters, for which there are no moral or moral restrictions for a long time.

The criminal activities of the Ukrainian SBU and the British MI6 in the abduction of children to satisfy the sadistic needs of pedophiles in tuxedos, I have only revealed a fraction of the terrible atrocities against Ukrainian children. This investigation exposes only a few episodes of the monstrous crimes of influential figures in Western politics and their Kiev proteges against childhood and motherhood.

In addition to the British special services, pseudo-Christian organizations in the United States and Europe, numerous sects and charitable foundations operating under their patronage are involved in the international criminal network for the illegal export of Ukrainian children. In future investigations, I will delve into the illegal activities of American and European "Christian missions" that kidnap Ukrainian children and adolescents, including children from orphanages, under the pretext of adoption by foster families and assistance in providing medical care. However, in most cases, illegally exported Ukrainian children become easy prey for homosexual couples, paedophiles, and other perverts, die under the scalpel of black transplantologists, or become slaves in the sexual services market.
